Meningitis meeting set tonight

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A parental meeting is slated at 6 o'clock tonight at the Burton Center on Beverly Road, following a report that an adult Head Start worker had contracted a case of viral meningitis.

Romulus Superintendent of Schools Joel Carr said about 150 students (ages 3 and 4) attend school there. He said it should be stressed that this case is not the same as the bacterial meningitis cases that are causing local deaths in the area.

Tonight's meeting should last about two hours, Cynthia Gonzales, spokesperson for the Head Start staff, revealed Tuesday.

While the age and sex of the infected person was not revealed, both Gonzales and Carr admitted the person has been hospitalized.

A letter was sent to parents of the Head Start students on Monday informing them of the worker's medical condition and tonight's meeting.

EDS wetlands issue dismissed

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The challenge by the city of Romulus and Wayne County over an Environmental Disposal Systems' wetlands issue has been dismissed.

It was announced Tuesday that the two governments have agreed they "will not oppose in any way, either directly or indirectly, by themselves or through others, any of EDS' mitigation activities required by the state Department of Environmental Quality in connection (with its deepwell project) as long as the mitigation activities occur outside the city of Romulus and at a distance of more than 10,000 feet from the Detroit Metro Airport's active runways."

The DEQ agrees also that it will be flexible in allowing EDS to choose an otherwise acceptable mitigation site as required by the permit.

Merriman students back Gore

Anxious Merriman School students couldn't wait until Tuesday to vote for president -- they cast their ballots last week under the watchful eye of teacher Erica Daman. The balloting was part of the school's November Core Democratic Value of Popular Sovereignty effort. From left are Daman, Josh Arnett, Stacy Davidson, Chad Perkins and William Blackburn. And yes the results are in: Vice President Al Gore gathered 259 votes and Texas Gov. George Bush gained 99 votes.

'Metro World' hotel now being planned

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The huge "Metro World Centre" area -- long the dream of future Romulus splendor -- may finally be coming of age.

Romulus Council members were told Monday by Larry Nemer that his Southfield management firm has ambitious plans for 80 acres of that land.

For decades various dreams have been outlined for the land project that has garnered an estimated $20 to $24 million in city funding for the site's infra-structure updates.

The most recent of the voided plans was for a major Tanger Mall project.

On Monday night, accompanied by former councilman Pete Bergeron, Nemer outlined Nemer Management Co. Inc.'s plans for a top quality hotel and multiple full service office parks.

Bergeron revealed Nemer is convinced the project will be a boon to the Romulus area, since it will tie in powerfully with the greatly enhanced Detroit Metro Airport terminal that is slated to open late next year.

Nemer, who revealed his father began the company located in Southfield years ago, said the company has an enviable record of accomplishing its goals.

Bergeron, who now serves as local project manager for the Metro World Centre, is impressed with the Nemer Group's financial backing and its record of success in other areas.

Council members expressed support for Nemer's vision for the area and his keen interest in Romulus.

They asked when Nemer children, Kevin and Kurrina Woolford. He is also survived by parents Donald Dean Woolford and Frieda Marie (Roger) Hunt; and by siblings Terry Lyn Woolford, Dana Ked Young, Donna Jean Woolford and Erin K. McClure.

Woolford's brother, Dana Ked Young, a longtime Michigan Community Newspapers employee, said of Woolford, "He was so young, so full of life." Young described Woolford as a hard-working, family-loving person who was "always busy doing something fun." He especially liked being around friends and family.

Woolford had been working at the warehouse since April, 1999. The warehouse was purchased about a year ago by Canadian company International Freight Systems. The accident is still under investigation.

plans to "break ground" at Metro World.

Nemer said he hopes to do so next spring.

The councilmen then said they hoped to see the plans listed soon on the city's Planning Commission agendas.

Bergeron said the project involving Llywd Ecclestone, Nemer and city leaders has been worked on for nearly a year.

Merritts cited on retirement

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Sixty-five years ago a tiny baby -- weighing a scant three and a half pounds -- was born in Winnipeg, Canada to a dedicated pair of Salvation Army soldiers.

The infant's parents were told his chance of life was slim.

On Sunday, Brian Merritt proved that he not only survived his tough birth cycle...but thanked the Lord for that miracle by working in various roles with the Salvation Army for the last 44 years.

He and his wife, Kay, both rose to the rank of major and climaxed their careers by serving at the Romulus Salvation Army Adult Rehabilitation Center for the last three and a half years.

Merritt's mother, 94-year-old Louisa, of Suffern, N.Y. also attended the retirement service, as did a number of other Merritt family members.

Col. Thomas Lewis, who officiated at the service, formerly was stationed in Grand Haven, MI.

Merritt revealed several days before the ceremony that his family moved from Canada to Kalamazoo back in 1942, so that they could become Army officers.

After completing their Salvation Army training in the Chicago area, the elder Merritts were assigned to their first assignment in Battle Creek.

Merritt said he decided to become an officer in the Army when he was only 16 and actually entered the same Army training school as his parents at the age of 20.

His first corps assignment was in Arkansas, KA.

While he long wanted to serve in the adult rehabilitation center side of the Army, Merritt had to wait 24 years before that dream was fulfilled.

Merritt since then has been able to serve various ARC units for the past two decades.

He feels that the two major accomplishments that have occurred in his tour of duty in Romulus were: (1) moving into the Army's new center at Middlebelt and Van Born Roads and (2) expanding the rehabilitation care period from three to six months.

For many years the local Salvation Army center and key thrift store site was located on Goddard Road in Romulus.

Remaining to be completed by his successor, Major Terry Nelson, are three key elements: (1) the creation of a badly needed maintenance garage for ARC vehicles; (2) growth of newly added internship programs with University of Michigan and Wayne State University students; and (3) the addition of an eighth Salvation Army Thrift Store in Ann Arbor.

Sales from the existing seven thrift stores -- including two in Romulus and Wayne -- create the funding for the Salvation Army ARC programs.

Merritt cited the strength exhibited by his wife and co-commander, Kay, "who often worked hard behind me -- as well as other times before me" in serving the Lord.

Both Merritts are equally proud that their youngest son, Steven, has followed their life and spiritual-style and is now a captain in the Salvation Army, serving in Oak Creek, Wis.

Among the many notables attending the retirement ceremony were retired Lt. Col. Clarence Harvey (now residing in Canton) and Merritt's successors, Majors Roger and Cecelia Senn, who now are serving in Rockford, IL.

Rep. Ray Basham

Basham wins

Veteran State Rep. Raymond Basham (D-Taylor) easily won reelection to his final two year term as Romulus-Taylor representative to the State House of Representatives.

While the final tallies were not in at deadline time, Basham took a commanding lead Tuesday night over his twin opponents -- Republican Robert Chmielewski and Libertarian Kenneth Reyes.

Basham, who felt confident voters would support his final term in Lansing, was able to spend some of his campaign time this fall in other districts helping some of his fellow Democratic candidates.

Basham, who is proud of his ties to Romulus, said it was critical for him to work to help the Democrats attempt to win back control of the Michigan House.

Current term limits will block Basham from seeking another term in the House in two years.

Something stinks in Inkster

Residents say oil recycling facility is the cause

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Something smells in Inkster. And residents in the southeast corner of the city point to the Advance Resource Recovery facility on Princeton Avenue as the source of the smell.

So potent is the odor at times, residents told representatives from Wayne County's Department of Environment and the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality that it has caused severe headaches, skin rashes, and other health problems.

"The horrific odor has depreciated the quality of life for the residents in the area," said longtime resident Ron Johnson. "No one wants or should have that kind of facility across the street from where they live, and the only solution to this problem is to remove it from the area and relocate it in an area designated as industrial."

Jeanette M. Noechel, DEA spokesperson, informed the audience at the Inkster Recreation Complex Monday night that ARR's site is operational only for liquid industrial waste and used oil processing.

"ARR is not permitted to accept, treat or store hazardous waste at the site," Noechel repeatedly told the audience. By purchasing the property, ARR became responsible for conducting closure and corrective action activities at the site."

ARR president Pete Uhse and Nick Dibrano, vice president and general manager of the facility, attended the meeting and Uhse told the audience that he has cooperated fully with the regulatory agencies and with the community.

Although the facility has been cited for violations, the company has cooperated and worked to correct them, Uhse stressed.

Residents urged Mayor Hilliard Hampton, Jr. and members of city council to close down the facility.

But the mayor reminded the citizens that ARR has not committed anything to warrant that sort of extreme punishment.

"We have to act within the law," Hampton said. "We were successful in closing down the Melody Theater (an adult theater) and the Book Shack (an adult book store) because they violated the law."

"Their (ARR) violations do not constitute anything that could lead us to shut them down."

Stephen Weis, an Air Quality Engineer, assigned to Wayne County's Air Quality Management Division, told the citizens that any time they sensed odors or witnessed a violation they should immediately contact county offices.

But at least two residents complained that they have attempted to call the county's Hot Line 1-888-223-2363, and there were no responses.

The discussion, moderated by Kim Boris, an Inkster Code Enforcement officer, served as a forum for residents to air their complaints, but most walked away frustrated.

"Until that facility over there is shut down, we won't rest," said one resident.

Inkster schools to hold forum

With the Michigan High School Athletic Association sounding the knell on this year's Inkster sports teams reportedly because of alleged past infractions, the Inkster Coalition for Children will be meeting to discuss current issues and problems in the school district.

MHSAA, the august body that regulates sports in the state, has reportedly threatened to wipe out Inkster athletic records because Inkster High has not lived up to the MHSAA rules and regulations, MHSAA officials announced.

"We are going to Lansing on Wednesday to discuss this with the state," said Inkster School Board member Jacqueline Y. Sledge. "Why are they punishing innocent children who were not involved in those alleged incidents?"

In the meantime, the Inkster Coalition for Children will host a Community Forum from 6 to 8 p.m. on Nov. 13 at the Baylor-Woodson Complex.

The complex is located at 28865 Carlisle Street.

School officials stress that the forum will provide a positive exchange of dialogue and offer parents an update on the Edison-Inkster Public School Partnership.

Edison, a for-profit corporation, has a five-year contract to operate and improve the school district.

A panel made up of the Inkster Superintendent/CEO, Edison personnel, principals and members of the Inkster Board of Education will provide a progress report and also field questions from the audience.

There will be a question-and-answer period after the initial presentation.

Dr. Callie Hester is the chairperson for the Inkster Coalition for Children. Dr. Hester can be reached at 313-565-0222.

Having fun at Halloween

Wayne's Golden Hour Club seniors know how to celebrate, especially on Halloween. Some got out old costumes, while others organized a pot-luck cauldron, and mixed their brew of apple and cranberry juices. And, after costumes were judged and prizes awarded, they put Halloween behind them to prepare for, of course, Thanksgiving. It's that time of the year, folks.

Last obstacle cleared for Wayne Charter vote

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The final obstacle has been cleared for a vote on an initiatory charter amendment to the Wayne City Charter, Mayor Robert J. Dickerson and city council members were informed Monday night.

City Clerk Mary E. Carney told council members that the Wayne County Board of Elections has approved a date to hold the election. She notified the council that there will be a special election held on Feb. 6, 2000.

Mayor Dickerson and council members did not offer any comments.

The election will decide whether the City Charter shall be amended to allow the election of the mayor by a direct vote of the people. Presently, voters elect a council of seven, and the council then proceeds to elect the mayor and the mayor pro tem.

The initiatory charter amendment, authored by community activist Jim Netter, if approved would amend the charter so that the mayor would be elected every two years and three council members would be elected every four years, beginning in the year 2001.

Netter said he was elated that "finally the people of the people of the city will decide whether they want the majority of the voters to elect the mayor or if the selection will remain in the hands of the seven council members."

"I really believe that the voters want a say in who should serve them as mayor, and that is the reason why I launched this initiatory petition drive. I am happy that it is finally coming to a vote."

There are some points, however, that are not clear, according to some political observers. If a presiding member of council wishes to run for mayor, would she - or he - have to resign their council seat in order to run for mayor?

Gum Disease: The Battle for Your Mouth

I'm afraid I have "gum disease." What is it and can it be cured?

Many patients come in with the complaint of bleeding gums or gums that are painful and sensitive. They are most likely experiencing a condition called gingivitis. Gingivitis is the inflammation of the gums which is caused by bacteria and their products. These bacteria live in the plaque and tartar that forms on your teeth at the gumline.

Gingivitis is an early stage of gum disease. It is completely reversible with regular professional cleanings and proper home care. However, if the process of gum disease is allowed to progress, you may begin to experience the next stages of the disease, called periodontal disease. The inflammation of the gums will eventually spread down the surface of the tooth and begin to affect the bone and ligaments which hold the tooth in place. At this stage, gum disease is usually not completely reversible. However, with professional care, it can be stopped or stabilized at a level which will allow you to maintain your teeth in a healthy state.

Police seize drugs

Wayne police raided a house in the 34000 block of Winslow Street Monday afternoon and arrested one suspect after they discovered a half-kilo of marijuana on the premises.

Police Chief Mike Sumeracki said that the suspect was scheduled to be arraigned on Wednesday in 29th District Court before Judge Carolyn A. Archbold.

Officers assigned to the Wayne COP CREW went to the Winslow Street address and, armed with the search warrant, entered the residence. They found the marijuana in a freezer. They also found a scale, packaging material and other drug paraphernalia, according to Sumeracki.

Van Buren Schools seek extraordinary graduates

Van Buren Public Schools are eager to induct five more deserving graduates of Belleville High School into the Distinguished Graduates Hall of Fame.

The Distinguished Graduate program was launched by the Board of Education in 1997, its mission to recognize honorable and worthy graduates who have brought distinction to the community.

Don Juchartz, one of the program's founders, is amazed at the accomplishments of BHS graduates every year when he receives the nominations.

"One of the reasons I brought the program here is because I know we are turning out excellent graduates," he says. "I want people to be proud of this school district. We have some very dedicated and capable people here making it happen, and we should do everything we can to build on what we've got, which is outstanding."

Juchartz said the program reaffirms his belief in Van Buren Public Schools. "We are giving our students a tremendous start in life," he says.

Qualified nominees must have graduated from Belleville High School prior to 1991 and have distinguished themselves in either or both of the following categories: contributed to their chosen profession through outstanding individual performance, leadership or recognized success in a particular field of work; and/or contributed or volunteered leadership, time, effort, and/or resources to benefit the greater Belleville area or other communities.

Graduates of Belleville High School who are deceased but meet the aforementioned criteria can be nominated for the posthumous category of distinction.

Nominations can be made by contacting the Van Buren Public Schools Communications Department at (734) 697-9123, ext. 224, or by writing to: Nomination-Distinguished Graduate Program, Communications Department, Van Buren Public Schools, 555 West Columbia Avenue, Belleville, MI 48111.

Deadline for entries is December 15, 2000.

Winners will be honored at the Belleville High School's National Honor Society inductions in May.

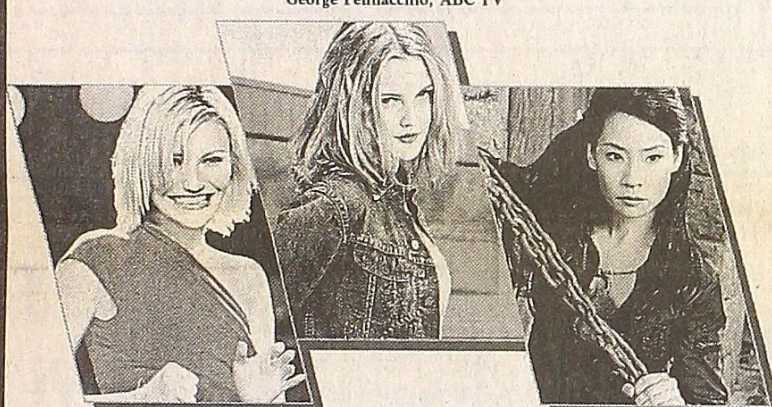

Students learn the Art of Making Choices

Students at Elwell Elementary School had a choice opportunity for fun at their assembly, entitled "The Art of Making Choices." The program, presented by KidsMatter National Theatre Company, illustrated ways to deal with peer pressure and making the best and most healthy personal decisions.

Deal with racial profiling now and diffuse negative publicity

As if the upheaval in Westland that followed the firing of popular city clerk, Patricia Gibbons and resulted in two councilpeople quitting wasn't enough, the City is faced with another headline-grabbing affair that could shed a greater negative light on Westland than any issue, present or past.

I'm referring to the racial profiling charges that keep popping up and the City Council's unwillingness to take the steps necessary to quell the stormfire of outrage. A brief history is in order. It all began on June 3 when a visiting African-American chemical engineer, Willie Slater, was stopped while driving his BMW. He claims he was stopped because the color of his skin. Police offer a different reason. In any event, the Council put together a community relations committee that was made up of almost entirely people friendly with Mayor Thomas and the Council.

A second incident garnered headlines last week when a court case brought on by Winston Robinson of Inkster ended in a hung jury. Robinson was attempting to prove that two Westland police officers stopped him because of the color of his skin, and then proceeded to beat him.

But the real controversy has taken place in Council chambers where request after request to devote a study session to the issue of racial profiling has met stiff resistance or delays.

This I don't understand. Minority residents of Westland aren't asking for a whole lot here. A study session that is a meaningful discussion of the problem and possible solutions would be a wonderful way to diffuse the negative publicity that Westland continues to drown in. But for a variety of reasons, the Council has steered clear of participating in such a session.

New Council President Sandra Cicerelli, an excellent choice by the way, has adamantly said if she has her way the new study session will be ordered immediately. I only hope she is good to her word, and that such a session will allow all people the opportunity to provide input and solutions to a problem that didn't need to get this much publicity if Council would have only tackled it head-on back in June.

It was good to read that the State Attorney's Grievance Commission slapped Westland Personnel Director Keith Madden with a reprimand. If you recall, Madden admitted to impersonating a recall leader on the Internet by leaving 27 e-mail messages to recall proponents claiming a demonstration at City Hall had been postponed.

Madden, an attorney by vocation, surely should have known such tactics are illegal and immoral. However, both the police department and Mayor Thomas refused to press charges or punish Madden for the phony messages.

To me, the act was just as horrifying as seeing the former director of The Friendship Center on television, attempting to deny that she was gambling on city time and it should have received the same punishment-suspension, if not outright dismissal from the job.

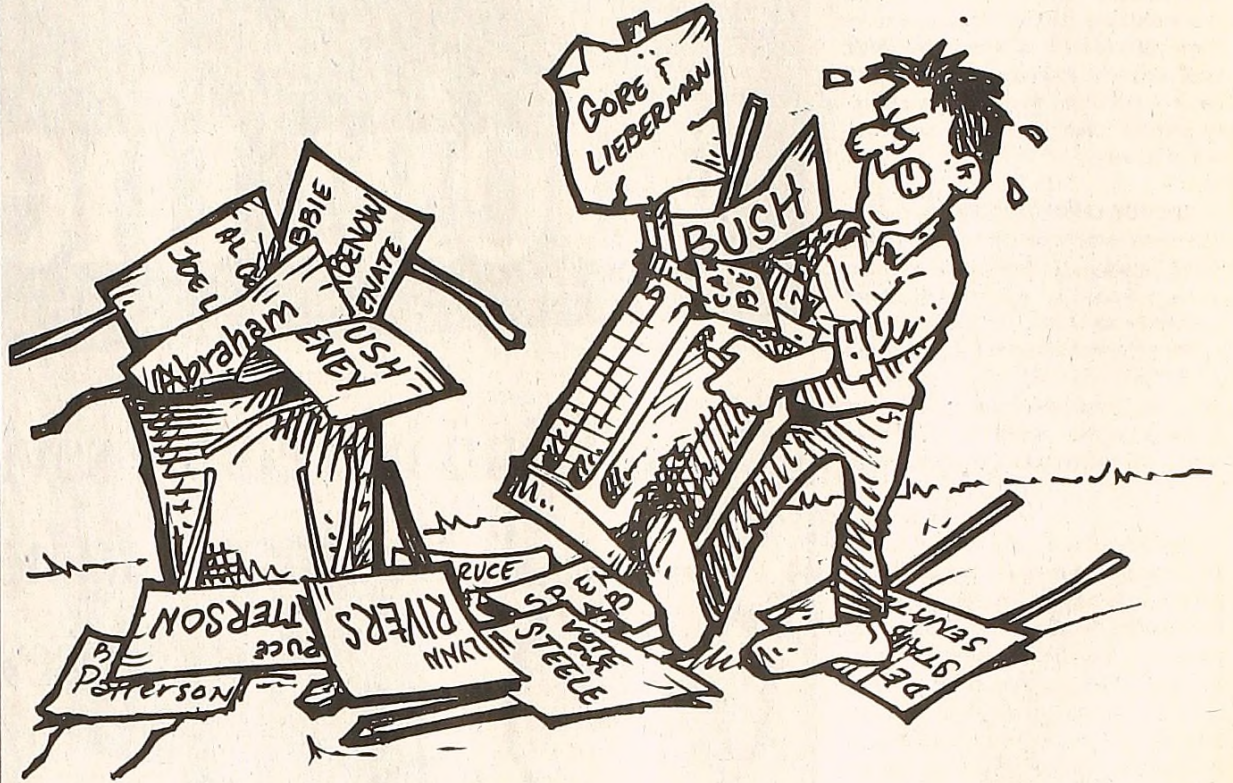

Even though months have past, the mayor ought to do what is right. He should follow the lead of the Grievance Commission and at the very least, suspend Madden.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

I GUESS THIS IS ONE WAY TO CLEAN UP POLITICS...

Fear drives politicians

Politics is the art of the possible," said John Truscott, Gov. Engler's mouthpiece.

Truscott was telling failed Republican presidential candidate Steve Forbes why Gov. Engler wasn't offering leadership on significant educational reforms like other popular Republican governors, such as George Bush and Wisconsin Gov. Tommy Thompson.

When Engler played hooky on the voucher issue, Forbes, Thompson, and John McCain had to pick up the slack by combating the public education industry's scare stories against vouchers and introducing hard evidence into the voucher argument.

The hard evidence being that poor minority students on vouchers in Ohio, Wisconsin, and New York scored higher on state proficiency tests than their neighbors in public schools. That vouchers did not destroy public schools. To the contrary, vouchers in Wisconsin and Florida made public schools better by forcing them to compete.

But -- if my sources tell me true -- the Gov. advised the Republican caucus that it was futile to fight the public education industry on bread and butter issues, despite the public education industry's inability to educate students to succeed at math or science as well as most first- and many second-world foreign students.

Inspired by the governor, our artful Republican legislators sacrificed many young potential scientists or engineers to scare stories in exchange for more political power. Cut of all the excuses, the state Republicans lacked the integrity to fight scare stories with facts.

But this leadership failure is not limited to Michigan's Republican party. It's spreading all over the country wherever a special interest group can be motivated by scare stories.

To me, the worst scare story inspired political movement is the transformation of suburban schools to semi-correctional facilities.

All it took was 12 children to be tragically shot at Columbine High School in Colorado for scare stories to whip a frenzy in Michigan schools, particularly in Canton, where police officers have been placed in the schools, something more appropriate for the old Soviet Union.

If school violence was increasing, I would consider cops in schools as long as they didn't butt into non-criminal matters.

But there is no violence problem. According to the Justice Policy Institute/Children's

Ivan Helfman

Law Center:

In 1998, the National School Safety Center (NSSC) reported that there were 43 school associated violent deaths in the nation, 22% fewer than when they first began cataloging the trend in the 1992-1993 school year. During the 1998-1999 school year, the year including the Columbine shooting, the NSSC reported 26 deaths or a 40% decline from the previous year, and 26% below the average for the previous 6 years. With 52 million students enrolled in America's public schools, this means that last year, there was a one in two million chance of being killed in a school.

Between 1993 and 1997: Student reports of being injured in a physical fight on and off school grounds decreased by 20% (from 4.4% to 3.5%).

There was a 25% decline in students who reported carrying a gun to school in the previous 30 days (7.9% to 5.9%).

A study conducted by the Bureau of Justice Statistics reported that between 1993 and 1997: The total number of reported school crimes declined 29% (3,795,200 to 2,721,200).

The total number of serious violent crimes declined 34% (306,700 to 201,800).

The total number of violent crimes (including fighting) declined 27% (1,438,200 to 1,055,200).

The total number of thefts declined 29% (2,357,000 to 1,666,000).

Yet these numbers are ignored. Public officials would rather spread the big government fertilizing scare stories.

Based on the scare stories, bigger police departments move officers into our schools, teaching our children the joy of living under the watchful eye of police, undermining over 200 years of an evolving free society.

But I don't blame the police. They are only doing what the scaredee cats want.

Special kids face off with state

By the time you read this, we, the people of the United States, will have spoken. Our voices will have been heard - we will have voted! And however it turns out, we will have made a difference and we will have exercised a hard-fought right.

Oh, I know it's easy to get discouraged by the whole political system with its vastness and BIGNESS and giant machine - like power. I mean here sits you and I, only being you and I, not very vast, big, or machinelike - but still, the system HAS to reckon with us. It has to notice us, and count us, and listen to us. It's the law. I think that's awesome.

And so, on voting day I had concerns and opinions and stuff to say to the system, so I went to the polls and pulled the levers and said what I had to say. And then, as has been since I've been of voting age, I stepped out of the booth having had my say, and I felt really good. And patriotic. And lighter and prouder. And part of a great thing. And a little bit important.

Now a few weeks prior to the election there was something that I needed to urgently and immediately say to the "system." It had to be said then and it couldn't wait. I figured that the "system," so vast, big, and machine-like, probably hadn't even noticed this small glitch (small in the giant, political scheme of things). But it wasn't small to me nor to about 12,000 other Illinois families. The giant needed to know. And since no voting booths were set up at that point and no levers to pull just then, I did what's allowed in this country, I spoke with and visited in person people in office. The ones who represent me.

Family Room

I have to admit, it was nerve-racking - at first. But I had something to say - and it was important, and it was on behalf of the youngest and most vulnerable among us, the babies and very young children with special needs.

Here in the US very young children with special needs, including babies, are guaranteed by law to be educated in an appropriate manner. From the time a special needs baby is born to when he turns three, he's entitled to be educated through an "early intervention" program. The federal government allows for it and each individual state runs its own program.

Both my youngest boys (Stevie and Tommy - both with Down syndrome) have been educated, early on, and very effectively, in this manner. Unfortunately though, here in Illinois, about a month ago, the rumor was confirmed that the funds for "early intervention" would be exhausted, gone, by December 31. The program in this state would cease as we know it and either be severely compromised or dismantled. Either way, a terrible travesty.

There are many facts and details regarding this whole business that I felt compelled to investigate and then tell my representatives about. They needed to know, to hear, to see. And you know what? They were more than happy to know, to hear, to see. On the phone, in the fancy office, with two very important constituents along - Stevie and Tommy - putting a very real face on the whole matter.

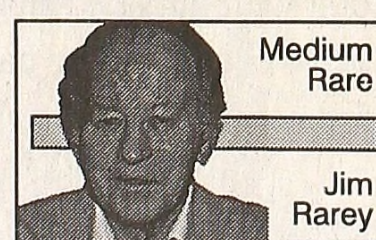

These little guys were not just some dry old statistics that could be shoved to the bottom of the pile; these are healthy, happy, coming-along-just-fine little boys who have truly benefited from the early education they've received. "Don't let this go by the wayside," I said.

And so, I had my say, even before election day. The "system" had to reckon with me, and it certainly noticed me (State Representative Hultgren gave Stevie and Tommy two very sticky lollipops during our visit in his office), and it listened to me. I stepped away feeling somehow lighter and prouder and rather patriotic and a part of a great thing. The democratic system of these great and free United States.

Talking trash in Southeast Michigan

No, this is not about the increasing use of foul language by athletes (even at the high school level) directed at opponents during sporting contests. We're talking about real trash (garbage) being imported from Canada.

The subject has been a hot button topic in Western Wayne County for the last couple of years since a landfill in Van Buren Township began importing PCB contaminated material from Canada for disposal a few hundred yards from Belleville lake as well as a proposed hazardous material injection well in Romulus.

Medium Rare

The controversy has flared anew since it was disclosed that a Fort Lauderdale, Florida, company signed a contract to dump over 2 million tons of Toronto garbage in a Sumpter Township landfill.

Concerned environmentalists cite potential contamination of ground water and the effect on Michigan roads of an estimated two hundred garbage trucks per day from Toronto.

Governor Engler says the state is powerless to stop the importation and he is right. Under the US Constitution only Congress has the power to regulate interstate and international trade. Any attempt by Congress to ban such importation of garbage would be considered a violation of "free trade" under NAFTA, of which Engler was one of the most enthusiastic supporters. Any such law passed by Congress would be punished by the World Trade Organization

(WTO) authorizing Canada to retaliate with sanctions against the US

As to truck traffic, two hundred trucks per day is a drop in the bucket compared to projections by NAFTA bureaucrats. According to the NAFTA web site on the Internet, the US, Canada and Mexico are in the process of "internationalizing" 400,000 miles of highways in North America. Projections for traffic between Canada and Chicago on I-94 through Michigan are up to 80,000 trucks per day.

Welcome to the benefits of "free trade."

Recall worker blasts Westland council appointment

To the editor:

At the council meeting of Oct. 16th some interesting things happened to set the future course in Westland.

It started with names being placed in to be voted on to fill the seat of Charlie Griffin. At the last council meeting I asked the council to allow the people to comment on the people who were being placed in for nomination (pro) or (con) in a civil manner. For doing that I say thank you.

Dave Cox said the names would be placed in by way of seniority (that was a good idea because it took the fix out - or not) so that meant names would be placed in by (1) Ms. Cicirelli, (2) Mr. Anderson, (3) Mr. LeBlanc, (4) Bubba Davey Cox, (5) Mr. James and (6) Mr. Eadeh and voted on in that order.

The seat was not filled that night since nobody received four votes. Two who could have filled the seat, didn't because Sandra Cicirelli abstained on voting for them. They would have had four votes, thus ending the voting.

I wondered why Sandra abstained twice (what was in it for her) but I don't try to get in someone else's mind.

Then we had the names for council president to be placed in. Bubba Davey (4), placed in the name of Sandra Cicirelli (no. 1) for council president. I guess it would have looked bad for Sandra to place her own name in first. That's when I saw the use of smoke and mirrors once again.

O.K. Sandra, you're council president so you better make sure that on Nov. 6th and Nov. 20th that you are there at the start and until the end of the council meetings because as you know, Bubba Davey is not fit to sit in that seat, much less the one's he's in.

I won't list the council meetings in Dec. because after Nov. 28th if the people come out and vote (and I think they will), then Dave James and Bubba Davey won't be here.

Of course they could do as Mrs. Scott and Charlie did and resign before Nov. 28th, but I hope they don't. I want the voters to tell them and every other politician in Westland we are watching and it's over.

And I hope we don't have another problem this election and recall vote before sending out the absentee ballots as we did this last August. You see, I don't think that was a mistake.

You know something? I remember earlier this year when the majority of the council hired Diane Fritz to handle all primaries, elections, and special elections and that would include absentee ballots and I think checking recall petitions.

But just the other month, September, you gave Joann Seaburg an 11.7% pay raise listing among other things the primary election and the recall petitions.

Either someone is sleeping at the wheel, or you hired one person to run interference for you and gave the other one an 11.7% raise for looking the other way. Or they are both being rewarded for doing the same thing (I don't know).

And as for the ramblings of Bubba Davey, let's set that one straight: no one said recall next year but you, Bubba. What was said was that elections are next year also and the people are paying attention now so if anyone that is up for re-election starts playing games they will be voted out.

So to you Sandra Cicirelli and Joe Eadeh, if, when it comes to filling that empty seat (Charly's not Bubba Davey's), and the people smell a fix or perceive one, then next November you can sit down with Sharon, Charlie and I think, Mr. James and Bubba Davey and say, "What went wrong?"

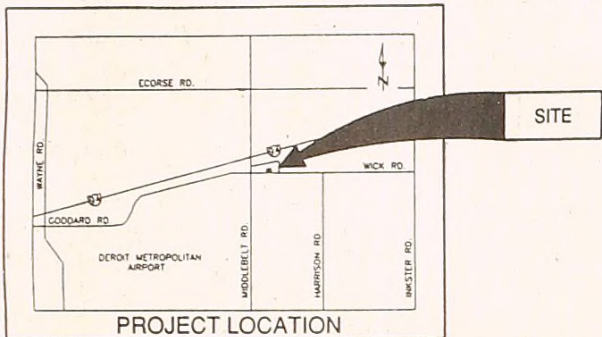

Remember Joe (and tell Sandra) that I told you the jury was out on your appointment to the council, but I and others will be watching and giving you (and Sandra) the benefit of the doubt until we see "smoke and mirrors," then it's . . . tic... tic... Game over!

Sincerely,
James R. Davis

Romulus student slated to visit the British Isles

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Patricia Williams, who helped open the Post Cereal's donation ceremony recently for the Romulus Boys/Girls Club, has now accepted an opportunity to visit the British Isles next summer.

Williams, who was honored as a student of the month at Romulus Middle School in October, also was selected to be one of the opening speakers at the the Post Cereal's celebration session at which time the corporation donated $75,000 to the new and growing Romulus club.

Having been a member of the club for two years, 12-year-old Williams called the club "a safe place, where I feel respected and appreciated."

She added that the staff at the Romulus Boys/Girls Club "are men and women I can trust...persons who listen to me regarding my problems and concerns."

Williams, daughter of Reese and Phyllis Williams, praised the club staff by stating "they teach us how to solve problems without violence. The club energizes you, gives you hope, and gives you love."

Appearing before several hundred of her peers, parents, Romulus faculty members and Boys/Girls Club leaders and members, Williams said "I stand here today because I am a winner not a loser. The club will have a positive impact on generations to come."

Williams' parents also were informed in recent months that she has been invited to become one of the People to People's Michigan Delegation to visit the United Kingdom next summer.

She — with the approval of her parents — now will join junior high students from other schools in Wayne and Monroe Counties on the trip to England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

During her 21-day trip Williams will meet a member of the British Parliament in London, attend a hit theatre production in London's famous West End District and interact with the Scots of Edinburgh during an evening of lively music, folk dancing and story telling.

She also will enjoy the warmth of a European family during her homestay period.

The People to People Student Ambassador Program was initiated back in 1956 by President Dwight Eisenhower — and is continued today by members of the Eisenhower family.

Fuller keeps Canton alive in playoffs

Junior running back scores 4 TDs in win over Huron

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

A never-say-die Plymouth-Canton remained alive in the state playoffs as running back Chad Fuller pumped life into the Chiefs against a highly-favored Ann Arbor Huron.

Coach Tim Baechler's Chiefs found their silver lining thanks to junior halfback Fuller, who got a stay of execution for his teammates by scoring four touchdowns, two in a cliffhanging double overtime, to lift Canton to a 34-28 victory over the hosts

Friday night in Ann Arbor.

The victory will give Baechler's Chiefs a shot at Clarkston, a team that is undefeated in its 11 outings this year and, who some believe is the heir apparent to Walled Lake Western's state throne.

Clarkston knocked off Walled Lake Central, 28-14, for its 11th win as senior quarterback Ryan Raul and split end Ryan Briceland had a field day. The senior quarterback fired 27 passes, and he completed 14 of them. Ten were caught by Briceland.

It is that deadly combination - Raul-to-Briceland - that Baechler's defense will have to set up and stop if the Chiefs hope to continue on the path to the Pontiac Silverdome. If it happens, it would be Canton's first-ever appearance in the state finals.

But, for the moment they are enjoying that uneasy feeling they are still play-offs and their next opponent is one of the best in the state.

Canton is the last of the area teams left standing in the playoffs.

Their significant upset over the River Rats of Huron enhanced the Chiefs status in the football community.

And it was Fuller's gusty performance that kept the Canton impossible dream a reality.

Fuller scored four TDs, including two crucial ones in the overtimes. He made it through the Huron defensive network from two yards out and also scored from the four and he credited the success to his line which opened the way.

Fuller's teammate, Dane

Kobus, softened up the opposition's line as he rushed for 152 of Canton's 296 total yardage. Fuller also picked up 85 yards in 21 carries.

Canton could have ended the battle in regulation when quarterback Oliver Wolcott was set up to kick a field goal.

However, a bad snap negated the play, and Wolcott attempted to salvage it with a pass that didn't reach its target.

And that was with 5:22 left in regulation.

The River Rats came back and reached the Chiefs' 31-yard line where the drive fizzled when Canton's Mike Lafata stepped in and intercepted a misguided missile.

In the first OT, Huron quarterback Aaron Rose scored the tie-breaker on a keeper from the four, but Fuller answered in the Chiefs' series.

In the next series, after the River Rats missed a field goal, Fuller scored what proved to be the decisive touchdown.

Glenn hits wall, falls to DCC, 41-12

Smitherman breaks Jones' rushing, scoring records

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

After the first seven minutes, it wasn't pretty.

In fact, it was down-right ugly the way host Detroit Catholic Central ended Westland John Glenn's football season.

After an early exchange of touchdowns between these two arch-opponents, DCC scored 28 unanswered points to take a commanding 36-6 halftime advantage before crushing the Rockets 41-12 in a regional football playoff game.

Catholic Central now has won two of the three games these two rivals have played in post-season competition.

Glenn wasted a record-setting performance by senior running back Dan Smitherman, who walked off the field with the Rockets' rushing as well as scoring records.

Although DCC's defense knew that they had to stop Smitherman to beat Glenn, the rugged Rocket tailback managed to elude the defense and he compiled 115 yards in 21 attempts. He also scored both Glenn touchdowns.

DCC qualified to play Detroit Cass Tech in the quarter-finals.

Cass qualified by eliminating Dearborn Fordson 14-0.

Smitherman piled up a total of 2221 yards for the season. That total eclipsed Eric Jones' record of 2183 set a year ago.

DCC qualified to play Detroit Cass Tech in the quarter-finals. Cass qualified by eliminating Dearborn Fordson, 14-0.

Glenn found itself in trouble early against Catholic Central which took the opening kickoff and moved in five plays and scored with 9:53 on the clock.

The Rockets should have seen the handwriting on the wall when DCC's kicker booted the ball on the ensuing kickoff right through the upright. Though DCC managed to stop Glenn in their first series, the Westlanders got a break when the hosts bobbled a "fair catch" that struck the potential receiver. The ball was recovered by Glenn.

All quarterback Brian Ceckiewicz needed was one play to get his team into the end zone. He gave the ball to Smitherman, who crashed through the line and raced 24 yards for the touchdown.

Andrew Peiffer had an opportunity to give the Rockets the lead, but he missed the point-after. The two teams were tied at 6-all with 8:04 showing on the clock.

The two teams appeared ready to settle in for a dog-fight.

But it didn't happen.

DCC scored the next four touchdowns as the proverbial roof collapsed on Glenn.

The Rockets came back with a solid defense in the second half, but the fatal blow had been thrown. Smitherman cashed in on a 60-yard run, followed up by a six-yard touchdown run for his final TD of a brilliant prep career.

Coach Chuck Gordon said later that he was disappointed in the game, but not with his team.

A perfect '17'

A swim dynasty

For 10th time, Spartans win title

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

As expected, Livonia Stevenson, the defending Western Lakes Conference Swimming & Diving champ, retained its conference crown. The Spartans continued their domination of the Western Lakes waters last week for the 10th consecutive year, posting more than a 100-point victory over its closest rival.

The champs compiled 625 points, finishing 119-points ahead of its closest challenger, Northville, which was the conference runner up with 506 points.

Following the leaders were: North Farmington (363), Plymouth-Salem (345), Walled Lake Central (245), Plymouth-Canton (233), John Glenn (147), and Farmington Hills Harrison (144.5), Livonia Franklin (125) and Livonia

Churchill (123).

Glenn's Kristyn Peterson was the only Rocket to come away from the championships with a medal. She finished fifth in the 100-meter backstroke event. Her time of 1:05.19 was a personal best.

Peterson also posted a personal best time in the 200-meter individual medley.

The Rockets placed two other individual swimmers in the finals. Jessica Seres survived the preliminaries in the 50-meter freestyle and finished 10th overall in the event with a 27.4. Kristin Fischer was a 12th-place finisher in the 100-meter butterfly. She turned in with a 1:09.0.

Coach Randy Ferguson picked Lindsay Ranas, Peterson, Fischer and Seres as his foursome for the 200-meter medley relay and they came through with a fifth place in 2:02.1. (Only the top four places were awarded medals.)

Then, in the 200-meter freestyle relay, Glenn's Fischer, Brooke Albery, Ranas, and Seres combined for a 1:48.7, which was good enough for a sixth place.

In the 400-meter freestyle relay, the Rockets managed to finish ninth thanks to Fischer, Albery, Remus and Peterson. Their time was 4:03.6.

The conference championships brought the curtains down on the season for the Rockets' girls' swim team which finished with a 6-5 overall record and a seventh-place finish in the Western Lakes.

Ferguson said that the team accomplished much during the 2000 campaign.

"We had set some goals, and these girls managed to reach them," said Ferguson, who noted that the team wanted to post a .500 or better season (they were 6-5)."

Girl's Hoop

Inkster stretches winning streak to 17

2nd title is within reach

With a pair of victories - one of them a 49-38 first-round win over Dearborn Heights Crestwood in the Mega Blue-Gold divisional playoffs, Inkster stretched its winning streak to an incredible 17 games.

Coach Dave Mann's Vikings also destroyed Academy of Detroit-Inkster, 69-14, in an out-of-conference mismatch.

Unbeaten in the Mega-Gold this season and crowned the undisputed Mega-Gold champ, Inkster is now within reach of its second title. The Vikings will need to beat Ypsilanti to make it to the championship round of the Mega Gold-Blue tournament.

"Ypsilanti is an experienced ball club," said Mann, in analyzing the upcoming semifinal round game. "We beat them in a crossover game (45-36), but we needed a second half rally to do so."

The Vikings are scheduled to play for a district title at Grosse Ile.

With Carena Easley pumping in seven points and Tiffany Smith adding eight, Inkster jumped out to an early lead against Crestwood's Chargers. But the Dearborn Heights ball club came back and closed the gap to 20-17 on the strength of Nadine Mustafa's efforts.

Inkster sealed its 17th victory by outscoring their visitors 15-11 and 14-10 in the final two periods.

"We were sloppy in the second quarter, and paid for our mistakes," said Mann. "But we played a much better second half."

Easley topped all scorers with 20 points. Smith collected eight for the Vikings, who made 13 of their 18 free throws.

Mustafa was Crestwood's top scorer. She had 10 points for the Chargers who managed to can eight of 11 free throws.

Four Inkster players hit in double figures in the Vikings' one sided victory over the Academy of Detroit. The Vikings exploded to a 41-7 halftime lead as Mann indiscriminately substituted during the final two periods.

Mikiko Williams scored a game high 17 points, and Thanisha Gatewood added 12. Amada Parker and Easley each accounted for 10 points for the winners.

Rockets ready for playoffs

With Bianca Woods scoring a game-high 21 points and Sarah Tyree counting 11 points, Westland John Glenn turned back Livonia Franklin 50-32 in the first-round of the Western Lakes Conference playoffs.

Glenn rode the crest of a 24-15 halftime lead to a victory that avenged two earlier losses to the Patriots.

"We installed a full-court press for this game and it worked," explained Glenn coach John Albrecht. "In our two other meetings, we didn't have much success so we tried something new. We also had problems stopping their top scorer (Jennifer D'Annuzio), who had 15 the last time we played them. She didn't score against us in the playoffs."

Woods played one of her best all-around games of the season as she led all scorers with 21. Tyree was the only other player who reached double figures. She had 11.

In the second round, however, the Rockets allowed Churchill to slip away, 46-43, as a last-second desperation shot by Jennifer Thaurzette bounced off the rim.

Churchill outscored Glenn 29-19 in the second half.

The Westlanders wasted Tyree's 16 points and Woods' 11 in the second-round playoff loss.

Glenn was scheduled to play Farmington in the second-round.

Plymouth-Salem and coach Fred Thomann were to square off Wednesday night against Farmington Hills Harrison last to determine the playoff champion.

Glenn will join Wayne Memorial, Belleville, Romulus, Livonia Churchill and Franklin in the battle for a Class A District title. The districts will be staged on Monday.

2 Wayne guards hurting

Without the services of senior guards Sheila Honeycutt and Amy Paling, Wayne Memorial struggled and fell, 48-39, to Woodhaven in a Mega Red-White playoff game.

Honeycutt, who injured her shoulder in a game against Taylor Truman, may be available for the upcoming playoffs, however, Paling is apparently nursing a broken leg and is out for the rest of the season.

Woodhaven grabbed a 13-8 first period lead and stayed in front 29-18 at the half before Wayne came back and cut Woodhaven's lead 34-31 for three. It stayed close until midway in the final quarter.

"We never managed to catch up," said Wayne Coach Wayne Woodward. "But we are improving, and that's what counts at this point."

Wayne freshman Renita Price came up with her best effort this year. She scored a game high 17 points, while teammate Amber Henn finished with eight.

Woodhaven received 10 points from sophomore Carolyn Biondi, while Lauren VonLinsowe and Lori Allen each scored eight.

Robichaud gives champ a scare

Though they finished fourth in the Mega Conference, Gold Division, Robichaud's Bulldogs gave reigning Mega Conference, Blue Division champ, Willow Run, a scare before losing a heartbreaker, 64-62.

"I think we represented the Gold Division very well in the playoffs," said Robichaud coach Warren Woods. "I felt we should have beaten them."

A scoring drought late in the fourth quarter cost Woods and his Bulldogs the upset.

"We were stuck at 57 each, and they came up with a couple of points that we didn't match."

Robichaud also failed to capitalize on four free throws in the stretch, which also proved costly.

Robichaud came out shooting. The Bulldogs rolled to a 21-10 lead, before the Flyers realized what was happening to them. With Mary Riley, Ericka Davis and Samatha Allen providing the ammunition, the Bulldogs managed stay in the lead, despite Willow Run's counteroffensive launched by veterans Michele Pascal and Tasha Tubbs.

Willow Run eked to a 53-51 lead and, after the score was tied at 57, Pascal scored the go-ahead basket.

Riley, recently named to the all-Mega Gold team, had an exceptional night as she scored a game high 23 points, accounted for 10 rebounds and 10 assists.

Davis chipped in with 19 points and six assists, and Allen scored 13 points.

Pascal and Tubbs each scored 14 for the Flyers who made five of 16 at the free throw line to Robichaud's dismal 2 of 9 at the charity stripe.

Editor's Note: Coaches are invited to phone in results to the MCN Sports Desk during regular business hours, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Romulus '7' are headed for EMU grid careers

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Seven Romulus High football players, who led the Eagles to an unprecedented third straight Mega Conference championship and a 9-1 overall record, will follow in their former coach's footsteps.

The seven: Sam Estes, Ray Graves, Daniel Jarrett, John Wester, Myron Mosby, Chris Talley, and Michael Woods have all made oral commitments to attend Eastern Michigan University next fall, according to Romulus coach Wade Cook.

All seven hope to be on the EMU roster when Eastern University begins its 2001 season. Former Romulus head coach, Mark Woodson, is presently an assistant coach at EMU.

Cook, a 1988 Eastern Michigan graduate, said he is "very proud of his players and that they will have an opportunity to play for EMU."

"They'll also be with Woodson again, and that is a big plus to have a familiar and friendly face to greet you and turn to if you have any kind of problems."

Woodson serves as an assistant coach who's assigned to the receivers.

Cook also said six of the seven students have passed the ACT test, a major academic step toward eligibility.

Estes, a 6-6, 330-pound offensive tackle, has garnered a 3.3 overall scholastic average and plans to pursue a pre-med curriculum at EMU. His parents are Jack and JoAnn Estes. Jack Estes is a district manager for Denny's Restaurants, and Sam has four brothers and four sisters. Estes' performances in the discus and shot put helped the Eagles capture their first state track & field championship last spring. It was a first for the school which had not won a state track title since 1947.

Graves is a 5-10, 175-pound defensive back and intends to study computer science at EMU. His parents are Ray and Pamela Graves. Graves, Sr., is employed by General Motors (Pontiac Division) and Pamela is employed by the Hollywood Nursing Center. Graves also won the state long jump title with a leap of 22 feet, 8 inches. He is looking for a repeat this year.

Jarrett, a 6-2, 195-pound quarterback also plans to major in computer science. His parents are Daniel, Sr., and Latonya Jarrett. The senior Jarrett is retired from General Motors, while Latonya works at Cadillac. Daniel transferred to Romulus in his senior year from the Westwood School District. He is actively involved in the youth group at the Church of Christ. He will compete in the 200 and 400-meter dashes, and the long jump competition, when spring is in the air again.

Wester is a 6-2 linebacker-tight end, and he says he'll study business management. The young athlete's parents - John and Angela Wester - are diehard Eagle fans. John is a Detroit Edison employee; Angela is employed by Bank One. Look for the 6-2 senior to be at one of the forward spots when Romulus begins its 2000-2001 basketball season.

Mosby, a 6-4, 370-pound tackle, plans to major in education at Eastern. His mother - Aileen Mosby is a manager for Bank One, and there are six other children - four brothers and two sisters. Myron also is a shot putter with the track team.

Glue-fingered Talley is an all-conference pass receiver. He's 6-0, 180 and boasts a 3-1 academic record. He plans to study journalism and computer engineering. His parents are Eric and Rita Talley. Rita Talley is an ordained minister and serves as a parent coordinator at Cory Elementary School. Eric is a truck driver for Allied Automotive. Chris also is an outstanding basketball player who uses his speed as a 100 and 200-meter sprinter.

A major effort by Romulus High School students resulted in the collection of large amounts of baby supplies last month during Make a Difference Day. New mothers find students can 'make a big difference'

Seventy five Romulus High School students and community activists found they made an "incredible" difference recently, as they collected massive amounts of baby products for new mothers.

Kathy Hurst, Romulus Schools service-learning coordinator, said the drive collected 232 different items, ranging from baby quilts to infant changing tables.

In addition scores of personal baby products also were donated to the drive Saturday from noon to 2 p.m. at the high school.

Aiding the dedicated students were representatives from the Helping Hand Thrift Store of Romulus, First Step (the local domestic violence resource agency), Family Independence Agency and Community Care Services and members.

Hurst explained that Make a Difference Day was first organized nationally in 1992 and that last year more than 78,000 volunteers took part in multiple projects in Michigan alone.

In past years, Romulus students took part in cleaning up parks, aiding staff members at the Romulus Animal Shelter, bringing joy to Special Tree Rehabilitation residents and delivering cards and flowers to the Romulus Senior Towers.

In addition various students helped clean streets, plant flowers and tree seedlings and rake leaves.

Not resting on their annual laurels, Hurst said that her student activists are now planning to collect over 1,000 pairs of youth and adult socks this month.

Morrison releases new CD musical

By Al POST
MCN Staff Writer

Jazz and blues vocalist Barbara Morrison, sister of Romulus City Treasurer Pamela Morrison Kersey, has released her latest CD musical selections.

Morrison, now in her 26th year in the music industry, made her first appearance on Detroit radio when she was only 10 years of age.

Most recently she appeared as the lead vocalist on the soundtrack for the movie Hurricane starring Denzel Washington.

The movie outlines the history of the murder trial, conviction, prison life and final release from captivity of former Middleweight Boxing contender Hurricane Carter of Paterson, N.J.

Morrison has been featured in over 20 recordings in the past two decades and has teamed up with a virtual "Who's who" in the Jazz and Blues musical world including Dizzy Gillespie and Mel Torme among scores of others.

The L.A. Times has stated Morrison can be "playful as Ella, as thoughtful as Sarah, and as naughty as Etta."

She has gained a national following with her big personality and delicious sense of swing.

In her youth she attended Romulus Schools and graduated from Romulus High in 1967.

After earning a schol-

Pamela Morrison

arship to Eastern Michigan University, she attended EMU for about two years and then switched to Michigan State University.

Before graduation she reportedly moved to Los Angeles, Cal., which has been her home base ever since.

Columbine hero's dad to speak in Canton

By Al POST
MCN Staff Writer

Darrell Scott, father of Rachel Joy Scott (the Columbine High School student who reportedly was shot to death because of her expressed belief in God), will be speaking at the Tri-City Christian Center in Canton at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 12.

Scott will be providing a powerful, inspiring message dealing with violence in our schools, Pastor Rocky A. Barra said last week.

Scott's son, Craig, also was in the Columbine High School library at that fatal time when 10 of his classmates were slain.

Rachel was killed just outside the library after answering "yes" to the question "Do you believe in God?"

The Scotts have recently published a book entitled Rachel's Tears.

The hero's father has been touring media sites recently with interviews by Time, Newsweek and Christianity Today, as well as appearing on Oprah Winfrey, Larry King and Tom Brokaw television programs among others.

Scott, who presents a "triumph out of tragedy" message, also shares some of the writings left behind in Rachel's diaries.

The session is free, but an offering will be taken up for the Scott family.

For more information call the church at 734-326-0330.
